Comments Just came back to the website to see what's new. Wow! So many more people have written about this great little lake. I want to say thanks to my cousins, Hazel Schanke Erikson and Lisa Schanke Jensen for the photos they shared with me. If ever I start feeling a little lost, I can always go back to the lake, and all is well again. Many, Many thanks to Rick Davids and anyone else who makes this site possible. When we used to make a trip into Hawley, there was a store I really liked. I think it was called "The Trading Post". I remember a hotel (I think) that had $1 dollar bills tacked to the ceiling.

Comments Always wanted a little place on a lake where I could row a boat and watch sunsets; where the "kids" and grandkids could go to 'get away from it all'. Not close to hunters, however! Rode part way around the lake looking for one for sale. I heard that this website will close in December this year. What a shame as it is so enjoyable!

Comments I'm lost for words... I cut down a huge tree today in Las Vages that hung over my house, and thought how my dad would have been proud of me for such a drop. It was then that I goggled Teedyuskung, remembering the MOST wonderful times in my life... That's when I found this site... It brought happy tears to my eyes since we lost most of our pictures of those times. My sister Joan may be able to find some old shots of the lake. The stories I would love to tell go on and on, but more important the people that I knew and loved where many. The 60's on Lake Teedyuskung were truly a time and place of innocence. I still think often of my Teedyuskung friends and family as Uncle Harry, Ant Mary, Uncle Don and Ant Margie always taught us, that was what it was all about. "Family" The early years would be square dancing at the Warriner-Smith cottage, just 4 cabins away... seemed like 10 miles at the age of 8 years old in 1959 in the dark. Comments so sorry, but I already wrote this. cont... The old man that called the squares was my hero... "Right onto your partner and it's grad right and left, when you meet your lady, don't leave here there alone, just swing her when you meet her and promenade her home" Yes that could have been him, or Mr. Engvaldsen calling them at the Cuckoo's nest. My first friends... Alan Engvaldsen. Mike MacCleary, Kathy McCormack, Susan Wassmer, Kim Teater. Willard MacCleary, Karn MacCleary... Kissing under the rafts for the first time, hours in the sun... oh forgive us for that with no sunscreen. And all the boats !!! Yes the back road was the Wild West sometime, and to be able to drive at the age of 12 was in fact a scary thought in it self. People say I can drive a car better in reverse, and it all comes from the back road. The spring... what more can you say about the spring. Fill the canoe up with 8 to 10 empty plastic bottles and venture out to fill them up. Pulling into the little area between the trees, and the cold water that

Comments Wow wow wow. Thanks for all of the memories. I was a member of the family in the bright yellow house about 3 away from woodloch from the 70's on (between the White's and the Griffin's). We were about the 5th dock (right next to the White's). I, like some of you, also remember sneaking over to WL to water ski, minigolf, bocce, play tennis, spa, or other ... How amazing was the fishing ... used to bring my daily catches to Mrs. Lit for $1. Uncle George (Griffin) would school us in basketball or take us out to the lillies for some large mouth. Sifting throught the .22 sillouette range at the top of the dirt road for live rounds. I remember Mr. Prest shooting snake after snake every year as if we ever put a dent in the population ... or making his famous flapjacks for all to enjoy. How about some wiffleball with Rich, PJ, or Suzy Prest? Trip to the "Hershey Room" for some ice cream or air hockey? Basket of shrimp at cuckoos nest? Ever row out at night and just take in the stars? How about fireworks over the lake? Hey whats that gree

Comments Your great website has brought back many fond memories of Lake Teedyuskung! My parents, Alice and Roy Thurnall, built a cabin on Forest Lake Road near the outlet and spent summers there from 1946 until 1981. For several years prior to that we camped out at the former Camp Douglas in the woods across the road from "Whitehall", the summer home of our dear friend, Mrs. Gladys Beard. Hot summer days were spent on the lake and Wednesday and Saturday nights at the Cuckoo's Nest. My sister, (Barbara) Joan Thurnall, made her first art work sale at about the age of 14 to the Cuckoo -- a cartoon which he hung over the bar.

Many of the names are familiar to me. When you live in an area, one doesn't always see it as visitors do. Obviously, many lasting impressions were made during those years. Comments I just located your site online & found it fascinating. My parents, Vere & Lucile Blackman bought what is now the Seidensticker home in 1953 from the estate of the builder & original owner who I believe had been a local doctor. The house was a treasure trove of Arts & Crafts 'cottage' design & virtually unchanged from when it was built around the turn of the 20th C. We bought & sold it furnished (brass beds & wood burning stove included!) I my summers at the lake from '53-'60 with my mother. Father used to drive up each weekend from his work in East Brunswick N.J. I tell everyone how idyllic my childhood summers were & it's wonderful to know that others feel the same about their time at the Lake.

Comments Hey All, My father used to be a partner on a property on the lake in the late 80's and early 90's. It was on Stevenson's Corner, now owned by the Nelsons'. It was the property with the huge lake front, wrap around screen porch, and the deck on the second floor of the boathouse/garage. For the short time (five years) that my family owned the property, it was one of my favorite places to go in both the summer and the winter. We got snowed in once on president's day weekend. One of the best times ever. I was devastated when the partnership dissolved, and they decided to sell the property. Lots of great memories playing on the lake. My parents just built a new house on Lake Meade near Gettysburg. Nice place, but does not have the charm that the Stevenson property had. By the way, the bar near the University of Delaware is called "The Stone Balloon" and is doing extremely well from what I understand. I don't know if the Stevenson family still owns it. Thanks for putting up a neat site to help jog my memories.

Jewell bought our family summer cottage/home back in 1958. Before then, we (Jewell & Seidensticker families) would vacation at Twin Lakes down by Milford, PA. All my summer childhood memories were of time spent at Lake Teedyuskung. From the earliest memories of when Woodloch Pines was only a few cottages to what it is now. From when they had horseback riding at the camp for Weight Watchers to the 4th of July fireworks each year, the walks to the spring, the walks around the entire lake...(until someone put up a fence to keep us and mother nature out)...so many fond memories. My parents Patricia and (deceased Howard) Seidensticker and my 4 siblings (Buzz, Jim, Richie & Dee) spent the mostpart of our childhoods here during the summer, not to mention those winter vacations and getting "snowed-in". Comments Great site!! My entire family used to vacation on the lake every summer. Aunts, Uncles, Cousins, it was great! My uncle owned the home on the opposite side of the Seidensticker house from Woodloch Pines. Unfortunately, he sold it about 7 years ago. I remember as a kid sneaking into Woodloch to water ski and trying to row all the way to the other end of the lake, we actually did it! We were only about 12, so that was a great achievement. I even remember eating dinner in the Cuckoo's Nest, they had this great sit down pacman game. We had a ton of fun staying at that house.
